

Trigging (Cockle gathering) Good Friday 29th March 2013

Counting the triggers is rapidly becoming as well established a custom as trigging itself! There will be no formal survey this year but it would be highly desirable to make our usual informal count to be added to our long-standing record if any Helford Group members could assist.

Bar Beach-Helford Passage, Calamansack, Treath and St Anthony need good coverage.

I believe Low Tide is at about 1256 BST height 0.3m

The basic details required are listed below. Please add anything else you notice. IS ANYONE ALSO COLLECTING RAZOR SHELLS OR ANY SPECIES OTHER THAN COCKLES? Please record details.

Name and contact no. of observer

Site (Bar Beach, Treath, Gillan, etc.)	Time	Total nos people at any given time	No. of family groups - or approx. nos adults & children	Nos actually digging	Weather conditions	Notes on catch, etc. (if possible)

Please return completed sheets to Sue Scott, HMCG Co-ordinator, Little Helland Treverva PENRYN TR10 9BP or email if more convenient to you. coordinator@helfordvmca.co.uk